Canadian service and three points for every month of overseas service. Twenty per cent will be added to the score of those who are married or have dependent children.

Two points will be deducted for each month of compassionate leave and three points for each month of detention. No distinction will be made with NRM personnel whose scores will be figured on the same basis.

The information was released to the press today by Lt. Gen. John Murray chief of the general staff, in the form of a pamphlet governing the return of Canadian Army in ing the homecoming and demobilization program.

"COMBINED OPERATION"

Author of the pamphlet was not identified, but a defence department spokesman said it was a "combined operation."

The program affects about 300,000 overseas army men and is similar in many details to programs which will soon be announced for the 45,000 men serving outside Canada in the navy and the 32,000 men serving outside Canada with the RCAF.

The 1st Army commander, Gen. Crerar, in a brief introduction to the pamphlet says that "weeks and months" might pass before the men are finally reunited with their families.

The pamphlet adds: "The Canadian Army will therefore be returned to Canada in instances having less than this score will automatically go to the continuing occupational force.

LONG SERVICE CEILING

A long service ceiling would be set at perhaps 150 points and all personnel in this category would be slated for early repatriation.

Personnel with scores between 100 and 149 points would remain with their units on a territorial basis or be repatriated to units of their home area for eventual repatriation and demobilization.

The high priority men will be organized into "Canada traffic" of about 25 officers and men directed out as a convenient number to handle on Canadian trains. Each detachment will be made up of soldiers from the same military district and where possible from the same corps or regiment.

FLYING BARGE

DARWIN, Australia. (CP)—In a cyclone on the north-west coast of Australia, a 36-ton barge was lifted from its anchorage, carried across sandbars 20 feet high and dropped three miles inland.

Donald Gordon, press bureau chairman, told The Canadian Press in reply to a question last night that a statement would be issued Monday on orders high are to be immediately revoked.

EASE HOUSING SHORTAGE

In the relaxation and direction of controls, as well as by other means, concerted efforts are being made to increase the supply of building materials and equipment so as to assist in overcoming the great shortage of houses as rapidly as possible," said Mr. Daley.

The sales tax on building materials had been removed prior to the war but was re-introduced in 1941 and now has been removed

Facilities released from the war program will be used for "the rehabilitation of liberated countries, non-war exports, reconstruction and expansion of industry, re-equipment of agriculture and other primary industries, the housing program and increases in the production of consumer goods."

PRESERVE BALANCE

An effort will be made to preserve a balance in these purposes with particular care to facilitate industrial reconstruction and expansion, re-equipment of primary industries and the housing program.

"In particular, prohibitions on the manufacture of a number of household appliances and other consumer goods will be rescinded. It is not anticipated that such products will reappear in the retail stores for some time but the resumption of employment in their production can now be expected."

Relaxation of restrictions on automobile tire sales would be discussed shortly and restrictions on the extension of public utility services, particularly in rural communities, was planned.

Increased supplies of most metal products can be anticipated as most as productive facilities can be changed over.

Donald Gordon, press bureau chairman, told The Canadian Press in reply to a question last night that a statement would be issued Monday on orders high are to be immediately revoked.

EASE HOUSING SHORTAGE

In the relaxation and direction of controls, as well as by other means, concerted efforts are being made to increase the supply of building materials and equipment so as to assist in overcoming the great shortage of houses as rapidly as possible," said Mr. Daley.

The sales tax on building materials had been removed prior to the war but was re-introduced in 1941 and now has been removed again. The graduated tax on passenger automobiles, from three to 80 per cent, now replaced by a flat 10 per cent tax, varied according to the value of the car.

Tax authorities said last night that while in some cases the change would mean an increase in the liability of taxpayers, it would result in a reduction.

In some fields the Japanese war and European needs would mean continued shortages. This applied in some foods and to textile products.

There was a danger that civilian spending would be increasing more rapidly than the flow of supplies and therefore inflationary pressure might have to be faced and the government was determined to hold the line on its stabilization program.

TAX REMOVED MANY BUILDING MATERIALS

Ottawa, May 11.—(CP)—Building materials which come under tax reductions, removal of the eight per cent sales tax and of the 10 per cent excise tax on imported goods, announced last night are:

Bricks, building the building blocks and building frame plates and cement, lumber, saws, shingles, lock, siding, nails.

Famous Plane, 'F' For Freddy, Lost in Crash

Leaving a trail of gasoline and oil behind it, which immediately burst into flames and sent up a cloud of smoke visible from nearly all parts of the city.

Both men are believed to have been killed instantly in the crash. The fact that "F" for Freddy crashed at Calgary after avoiding German gunfire on more than two trips over the continent was not the only melodramatic touch in the accident.

RUBBER DINGHY INFLATED
As a last gesture to her crew, and in violation of the orders of the Air Force, the plane's rubber dinghy dropped out, inflated automatically and landed on the release error cables just as the plane was about to crash. The dinghy came out of the control tower in a long dive and dropped below the level of the hangar. It started to rise but as it lifted clipped a structure used for housing meteorological instruments and then crashed into the air.

The plane rolled over and the wing began to fall off as the craft gave steeply toward the ground.

FLYING THE SHORTS
The plane was one of the first to be sent to the front lines in this war, having been used as a target for the DFC which has lost four other planes and Whittier bombers. After a short spell as a target, it returned to the front lines for further pilot training and returned to fly from the front lines.

OTTAWA, May 11.—(CP)— Graham F. Towers, general chairman of the National War Finance Committee, last night expressed deep sorrow on the crash of the F-4 bomber at Calgary with the loss of its famous two-man crew.

Mr. Towers said "I am deeply distressed to learn that an aircraft of the National War Finance Committee, carrying the spirit of the Eighth Victory Loan, was lost."

USE OF FAMOUS PLANE CRITICIZED
WINNIPEG, May 11.—The Winnipeg Free Press in an editorial yesterday criticized the use of the "F" for Freddy bomber and its crew as an advertising medium on the grounds that it unnecessarily endangered the lives of the airmen.

The editorial, which appeared in yesterday's morning edition, while the bomber was still flying over Alberta, commended the use of the Eighth Victory Loan, said in part: "No one who saw Flight Lieutenant Murray Briggs and Flying Officer John Baker put their lives through its pages (over Winnipeg)

Former Gauleiter Commits Suicide

WITH THE U.S. THIRD ARMY

By J. H. Jones—Konrad Henlein, former Gauleiter of Sudetenland, committed suicide in a prisoner of war camp yesterday morning. He slashed his wrists with a razor blade.

Henlein was taken into custody Wednesday by the 3d Army, with Karl Franz, Nazi governor of the Bohemia-Moravia "protectorate". Henlein was the Sudeten organizer who paved the way for Hitler's march into Czechoslovakia in 1938.

The former Gauleiter apparently had been prepared to commit suicide if captured. His wrists had been slashed by a razor blade he had concealed beneath a strip of adhesive tape attached to his cigarette case.

By taking his own life Henlein escaped execution by the Czechoslovak government. He had been sentenced to death in absentia by a Czechoslovak court in 1938.

Nazi Prisoners Start Work Soon In Great Britain

LONDON, May 11.—(CP)—German prisoners-of-war in Britain will begin next week to clear blasted areas in preparation for housing them. In a few months it is expected more than 300,000 prisoners will be employed in the task.

Plans have agreed on rates of pay and hours of work and the Ministry of Work has said that no one British workman will be out of a job because of the plan.

Bogarts Divorced

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 11.—(AP)—Shirley M. Bogart, who granted a divorce from Actor Humphrey Bogart yesterday in a hotel and private hearing, before Judge George Marshall, Mr. Bogart, who has announced that he will marry his leading lady, Lauren Bacall, did not return the action.

On V-E Day will deny that bringing this plane to Canada was a thrilling sight. But it is not time that a hero was called to stand of this kind. These young men, are heroes of the air war of Europe, not in the operation they are now engaged any way for any country except their own. We think not.

MEN RISK LIVES

"These young men are risking their lives every time they put on their uniforms. They risk for what? — to give the children of Canada and the United States a momentary thrill."

"Will this stunt result in the selling of a single extra $100 bond anywhere in this country? We doubt it. Yet even if it sold millions of dollars worth of bonds, does that justify this needless risk of life? We doubt that too."

"Mr. Towers, it seems to us should bring his Eighth Victory Loan organizers back to earth and instruct them that propaganda stunts which force men to risk their lives unnecessarily should have no place in future loan campaigns."

Asbby Nominee Social Credit, East Edmonton

Wentworth, Mrs. Alma Tyler, W. H. Asbby, Les Myle, George Whittington, the Rev. F. Williams, W. Baldwin and Dr. A. Kennedy.

Chairman Charles Gould with new after being nominated and the proposed nomination of Joseph Upton was also withdrawn after it was found that an absent person could not be nominated.

ACCEPTANCE SPEECH
In a brief but spirited speech of acceptance, Mr. Asbby promised the convention he would "not let them down."

As a farmer, he said, he had found that the laws of God and nature must be obeyed. That is all that is necessary to solve the great problems facing the world today, he said.

The people must control their representatives at Ottawa as a farmer controls his crop.

If the people do this we are certain to obtain security with freedom, which is the aim of candidates of the National Social Credit Association, he said.

PREMIER SPEAKS
Premier Ernest Manning, who spoke briefly at the close of the meeting, declared there is only one sound economic standing in the way of the people of Alberta and that is in the form of credit control and restrictions imposed by the federal government over the flow of credit.

He warned his listeners that the coming election campaign would show many false issues, and red herrings dropped out to obscure the true issues.

S. R. James, M.L.A., said that the opponents of Social Credit would make their appeals on the basis of false prejudice and special privilege.

Mr. Asbby was born in Squeam, often were seen with jewels.

English. His parents and other forebears have been farmers for generations.

He was educated at Wadham College, Oxford, and McGill University in Montreal, specializing in agricultural economics. He came to Canada at the age of 14.

WOUNDED IN 1917
While attending university he enlisted in a university reinforcement company of the P.M.C. He was wounded in the fall of 1917.

Returning to Canada he was lecturer at Raymond school of agriculture until 1922, when he purchased his present farm from the Soldier Settlement Board.

He is married and has four children.

A member of the Church of England and a Mason, he holds membership in the Canadian Legion, B.E.L., the Canadian Corps Association and the Armed Services Federation.

He is also a member of the central group of the Social Credit League to which he has belonged since 1935.

AVOIDED PARTY POLITICS
"I have always avoided party politics and decided to stand for nomination only because I believe the Social Credit Association is not a political party. A Liberal could join the association if he so desired. The association claims that certain things must be done to provide security for the people. It makes no difference who does the job," Mr. Asbby explained.

German People
Not To Be Fed
Through UNRRA

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—Herbert Lehman, director general of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration, said the UNRRA is not authorized to assist Germans and is not planning to supply food to Germany.

Mr. Lehman sent a telegram from Washington clarifying the UNRRA's position in operations in enemy or former enemy areas as a result of prohibition of an Associated Press dispatch from Paris May 5 which he felt implied that it was planned to supply food to Germany.

This is not the case.

Call to Save Free Enterprise Is Admission System Failed

There is talk of preserving only what is saving and that the reason there is so much frantic urging to "preserve" the system of free enterprise, Red McCaslin, authorized Technocratic speaker from San Francisco, told an audience of about 800 in the Empire theatre Thursday night.

Speaking on the subject "Monarchism," Mr. McCaslin declared that only when the people of this continent install a new type of scientific, functional, controlled, entirely the reverse in every respect to the control system of free enterprise, will they be enabled to enjoy the heritage of abundance that is now a living actuality.

"Marked as arrived at the goal for which it has struggled wearily and painfully through 2,000 years of scarcity."

It was a man carrying a lantern through a long dark tunnel suddenly emerged into the light of day, his hands and feet shining with the lantern.

"The people would wonder that, but it means nothing," he said.

SALARIES LOW
Despite the unadmitted prosperity and a physical production of two and one-half times what it was before the war, a survey conducted in 1944 revealed that 23,000,000 men and women in the United States were receiving incomes of less than $1,000 per year or $875 per person after deduction of taxes.

He said that just about two per cent of the population are able to enjoy a fair measure of security under the price system.

"Would an intelligent 88 per cent of men two per cent per person—only about one million to one."

Don't blame the fellow at the top. He's showing some intelligence because he's really got something to fight for. Politicians and financiers are not to blame. You the people of Canada and the United States, are to blame for not forming the type of organization that will do the job for you."

He reminded his listeners that every successful organization in the world's history has been the result of complete organization and goal.

He said that the world's history is a little wonder that politicians there would be so stupid as to be buying on all the plans and resources necessary to make the type of automobile he wanted to sell the public.

"For years you have believed the myth that you can elect a politician to do the job for you, but after all there is no Santa Claus."

EVERY MAN FOR SELF
It is every man for himself under the present type of economy. It is little wonder that politicians are unable to do the job.

"Predicting there could be far fewer jobs after the war than formerly because of the immense amount of new technology, said the speaker, said a leading U.S. industrialist recently said there would be 15,000,000 without jobs in the U.S.A. at the end of 1946 if present trends continue."

He advocated local community work projects.

"That's what they have to offer the boys coming back from the war, only a bigger R.P.A. project. Technology urges you to change your concepts about work. Till after all, only a means to an end."

He said that the type of economy of abundance, such as technocracy advocates, there would be neither hot nor leisure. People would have to really live. They never had time to live, before, he contended. Even under the present price system there was talk of a universal standard of living in the U.S.A. before the war.

All institutions are at least a means to an end and present institutions, social and financial, cannot possibly continue to function under the new conditions of technological abundance, he claimed.

NEGATIVE INSTITUTIONS
Institutions now operating have become purely negative as a result of the new technological abundance. There is scarcity, but poverty, disease, insecurity and social control. All have their original roots in a state of scarcity.

The natural attributes of the next most probable social state are abundance, leisure, health, wealth, knowledge and functional control. The people of North America are now falling in the transition stage. They must move into the state of abundance or be wiped out in the ensuing chaos, he said.

Protest Plan For Extension Local Cemetery

Protest from residents in the district designated as the west half of Block 16 between 105 and 108 streets, Hudson's Bay Reserve, against the extension of Edmonton Cemetery, was heard by members of the civic finance committee Thursday. The 23 residents protesting through their spokesman, F. Cleary, 1070 116 street, submitted that the extension would materially depreciate their property.

Ald. James H. Ogilvie expressed the opinion that consideration should be given by the committee to the refusal to grant the Edmonton Cemetery Company the extension asked for, and that the cemetery be taken over by the city engineer's department. He said the city would be required to increase the number of burials into the cemetery to maintain graves in perpetuity.

The committee were requested to report on the suggestion made by Ald. Ogilvie.

An application from the Imperial Oil Ltd. for permission to erect a service station on the northwest corner of 102 avenue and 108 street, found members of the committee equally divided on a motion by Ald. Ogilvie which would prohibit the company from utilizing the property as a filling station site.

Ronald Marland, K.C., who appeared for the company, intimated that the property was under option by the company with sale contingent on getting permission from the city to erect the filling station. He said the building would conform with the civic center plan.

Ogilvie was expressed by agreement to the proposal because of traffic congestion. It was pointed out that there would be a steady stream of traffic east and west on the avenue and north and south on the street.

REFERRED BACK
It was decided that the matter be referred back to council without recommendation as the committee members were divided on the disposition of the company's proposal.

The following is a tabulation of the cases reported:

This Week	Last Week

B.C. University Confers Degree Upon Athlete

German Legation In Fire Is Seized
DUBLIN, May 11.—(CP)—The former German legation in Dublin, Ireland, seized by the British Nationalist government, and the Nazi minister to neutral Eire, Dr. Eduard Hempel, found himself without a job after 18 years in the British diplomatic service.

Montgomery Colliday, secretary at the United States legation, yesterday called on the department of external affairs and was given the key to the German legation. The move followed similar formal visits by British, American and French diplomats in Dublin.

Earlier, David Gray, American minister to the United Nations, called on Prime Minister De Valera and informed him that the government of the United Nations had assumed the powers and property of the government of Germany and that he prepared on their behalf to take possession.

Last night the legation was closed and the families still bearing the German crest had been removed from since the main entrance.

These are some of the bonns returned to Britons after V-E Day brought easing of wartime controls. It was disclosed last night in a white paper.

Frankie Crosetti Is Back As Shortstop for Yankees

EDMONTON, May 11.—(BUP)—Apollone Frankie Crosetti, the last of "murderer's row," is back at his old position as shortstop for the New York Yankees. Crosetti, late in sign-up shortly to get into shape.

Manager Joe McCarthy used Young Joe Buzas at the beginning of the campaign but with each passing day it was obvious the rookie was too inexperienced to be trusted with the regular position.

Frankie broke into the lineup as a pinch hitter early last week and with trip to the plate promptly it smashed out a home run with two men on.

Last Saturday Crosetti played his first game as regular shortstop and the move seems to have added new strength to McCarthy's makeshift infield.

The 34-year-old working little Italian's previous pinch confidante into the other infielders and McCarthy feels he has a winning infield combination.

Frankie's baseball career reads like a story book. The Yankees bought him from the San Francisco Giants in 1931 for 15 thousand dollars.

He was 23 at the time and upon his first try at Yankee ball Crosetti found himself in competition with two other men for the job of shortstop. Joe Lary and Billy Werber.

Werber, the opposition, scored good hits and was very good at the job. At the time New York was also grooming another shortstop at St. Louis, a fellow named Red Rolfe.

The little Italian wasn't only a good player but a good person. Crosetti worked hard and eventually won the spot as regular shortstop.

George Binks, the Senators' regular shortstop, was a powerful hitter. Binks was killed in the line of duty and was working in Chicago. The Yankees took him up and Washington bought him.

It is a pity. The week's best explanation comes from Alex Robb of the Washington Post Association. "Binks was killed," he said. "He was a powerful hitter. Binks was killed in the line of duty and was working in Chicago. The Yankees took him up and Washington bought him."

Spotlighting The Sport Girl

By SUSIE Q

A story comes from Toronto this week which will bring memories of Los Angeles to a number of the Edmontonians who were in the city in 1932, as well as to the various Toronto girls in attendance—a story which covers the searching of houses in German last inventory by Canadian soldiers detailed to uncover any stray snipers around the premises.

The regiment, going from one room to another in one unoccupied house, noticed a group of young Canadian girls looking down at him from a picture. On inspection he found the picture to be the Canadian female track team to the 1932 Olympic Games and the names on the back of the picture. He despised the picture and put it in a box.

onto, manager of the Canadian team.

It is presumed to have been found in the former home of Marie Dollinger, track member of the German team, who was extremely fond of the Canadians and spent much time in the company of our girls. No information had been obtained as to the whereabouts of the Dollinger family.

Another memento found was a book having the triumphs of Jesse Owens, United States colored fish, who won three events at the Berlin Olympics. Commenting on this, Bobbie Rosenfeld writes regarding the predicament of the girls, "I am sure they will sell after Correll Johnson—also a Negro—won the high jump. The 'Phoebe' had decided to receive all winners in his box to congratulate them, but after Johnson's victory he was left alone. His dilemma increased when Owens won the 100-meter dash.

Had Hitler received the American winners the whole New record of Arjan supremacy would have been lost. In 1945, instead he compromised. He had Lutz Lohse, a German, brought to him under the stadium and praised him on finishing second to Owens. Thereafter, he was the champion. In this May, 1945, Hitler's thought, "If he has any can in him in congratulating himself as the world's greatest 'Aryan' man."

Believe It Or Not

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, May 11.—(BUP)—One guess is as good as another as to why big-time baseball with its lowered standards of play is so fascinating to the fans, but the fact that it is so unpredictable probably has as much to do with the popularity as anything else.

Nothing seems to be according to the script and the fans love it. They come expecting to see a pitchers' battle and stay to cheer for a fence-razing melee of extra base hits.

No better evidence of the topography situation seems to be available than a check on the way the two major leagues are reversing themselves in the hitting of home runs.

The American League, long the haven of the heavy hitters—the slugger, Lou Gehrig and Charlie Keller—is depending on anything but the heavy hitters this season whereas the National is relying on the blow over the fence and into the bleachers.

15 HOMERS IN NATIONAL
So far as compared with the 1944 season, the National League has increased its home runs by 10. And who is hitting them? In 1944, the National had only 21 homers in the corresponding period. A year ago, a drop of 15.

The most spectacular increase in the National has been by the rejuvenated New York Giants, who have picked up exceptionally well as compared to their performance a year ago.

And their showing adds up to the fact that the Giants are in first place with 13 victories in 17 games. They have tied, along with the Dodgers, the Giants are "hot" today in the elite slugging department. They had won 10 out of 15, a 10-5 record, two baggers and two runs.

NEW YORK, May 11.—AP.—The Pittsburgh Courier Review has just learned that the fence around their ball park, which closes a street, has been illegal for two years. Wonder if they'll have to pay for it?

Before starting their regular season, the teams of the All-American girls' baseball league will tour the 15 army camps of the sixth service command.

World News Highlights Presented in Picture Form

RECORD OF GERMAN BESTIALITY GROWS HOURLY AS LIBERATING ARMIES UNCOVER NEW PRISON CAMP HORRORS
Russian slave laborer here points out a former German guard, right, who beat prisoners in the Nazi camp. The Russians were among prisoners freed by U.S. troops at an undisclosed location inside Germany.

Fellow-prisoners made the cart from prison beds for this teen-aged Russian soldier who lost his legs in battle.

A Nazi favor was conferred every day on certain prisoners. The Germans let them burn clothing of the dead, and the "lucky" ones had the chance of searching the refuse for uneaten potato peelings.

Human wreck, from ill-treatment and undernourishment, like others, had to attend daily roll call.

NEW PRODUCTION WELL UNDER WAY—Tap dancer Eleanor Powell and screen actor Glenn Ford proudly pose with their son, Peter Newton, for the first "family group" picture. Ford was recently discharged from Marine Corps.

INFLATION HITS THE NAVY—This sailor's freshly washed clothes are all pulled up, maybe because they're proud of his bright idea for quick drying. He just ties them on the screen of his battleship's air shaft and they're dry and ready to wear in jig time.

CHAMPING AT THE BIT—One of the 45 new Pacific-type locomotives, last of which was delivered to the Canadian Pacific Railway on April 23, this snorting iron horse is being prepared for the road and a share in the CP's impressive war hauling record which stood at 253 million tons of freight and 68 million passengers at the end of 1944. The engines were built by Canadian Locomotive Company in Kingston.

THERE WAS NO GOOSE-STEPPING
The Brandenburg Gate on Berlin's Unter den Linden, scene of some of Germany's proudest parades, is the setting of defeat now as the defeated Nazi legions trudge and stumble through it on their way to imprisonment under watchful Russian eyes.

THIS TIME ON UNTER DEN LINDEN
The Soviet might which wiped out the stiffest German resistance to take Berlin is seen here parading through a Berlin square. Many of them had rolled steadily from Stalingrad to free their own country, then Poland and finally to smash the Nazi citadel.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Lake

A LAKE AND A STAMP HONOR LATE PRESIDENT—Man and nature worked together to create the beautiful scene above, and today it stands as the first official memorial to the late President Roosevelt since his death. Formed when the Grand Coulee Dam was built across the Columbia river, the lake is two to three miles wide, 150 miles long, and was the largest unnamed body of water in the United States until Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes recently gave it the official designation of "Franklin D. Roosevelt Lake." It touches on Lincoln, Grant, Stevens, Ferry and Okanogan Counties in Washington. The stamp at right, originally planned to commemorate the United Nations Conference at San Francisco, was converted into a memorial to the late President by addition of his name to the design, which he inspired. First copy of the stamp goes to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

JOY IN MOSCOW—Joy was complete in Moscow when the news arrived that the Soviet and Allied troops of the west had joined at Torgau in heart of Germany. Here the fireworks for which the Russians are famous are seen above ancient walls of the Kremlin.

PROUD MOTHER AND PARENTS OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN
Mother of the 33rd president of the U.S. is Mrs. Martha E. Truman as she looks now. She is 94 years of age.

Parents of President Truman, the late John is Mrs. Martha E. Truman and Mrs. Truman are seen here on their wedding day in 1882.
